As seen on:

This product is a HIT! Get past the idea of squeezing crushed fruit through this spout into your mouth. Yes it looks like astronaut food, but Harvey is absolutely delicious, made with just fruits that are almost all organic this is the perfect snack or afternoon-pick-me-up. Harvey comes in three different flavors, all of which are 100 calories or less. It is made from whole fruits grown locally in California. While the package makes it look like it is just for kids it is anything but – it is perfect for both kids' and adults' lunchboxes, but do not forget it does need to be refrigerated, so you might want to throw one in the freezer and pack it with your lunch so as it defrosts it will also keep your lunch cool.
